Height of the first interaction